CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS
HIGH SCHOOL
BRONX, NEW YORK 10469
EDWARD R. KOLEVZON — PRINCIPAL

Where Do We

From the day he was born, man has developed through the use of an initially puzzling instinct called intelligence. Using this instinct he proceeded to try to understand his surroundings. He followed many paths, some destructive and others beneficial, but he proceeded in his quest for knowledge. He learned to kill and he learned to build, but most important he learned to find himself in the universal scheme of things. Soon societies grew and educational centers developed. However, much to man's dismay, the development of machines and guns occurred faster than his ability to comprehend their danger. It is this very point that may be at the root of the problems that plague mankind today.

Because of these problems, as we the seniors walk out Columbus' doors for the last time, WHAT WILL Go From Here?

AWAIT US? During our years at Columbus we were exposed to many ideas. This preparation and the guidance of helpful advisors have helped to prepare us for future endeavors. Whether we choose to enter college or the business world, or even settle down with a family, we are prepared. As graduating seniors, we are glad to enter a vast new world, with the knowledge that we as individuals must accomplish and contribute to society. We are puzzled and a little frightened, but sure that we will succeed in whatever paths we choose to follow.

In Columbus we were led to the doorstep of a question that will probably be the most important key to our future lives, as brothers in society and as individuals. WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

THE EDITORS

In Dedication

Upon leaving Columbus for the last time, few students can realistically ask themselves, WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?, and not know the answer. During the past three years, Columbus has served as a foundation for our future endeavors. Those of us who chose to go on to higher education have been helped immeasurably by Miss Roslyn Olitsky, Mr. Robert Sabato, and Mr. Robert Hausner, of the Christopher Columbus College Office.

The huge task of placing hundreds of seniors in institutions of higher learning has been the job of the College Office over these past years. About the time when a junior takes his first standardized test—the PSAT, he must already shift his train of thought towards which college he will attend. The College Office provides many bulletins and information to guide the student in his choice. Before each standardized examination, the College Office runs a brief tutorial program to aid the student in taking the required tests.

However, what is most important is the student's first individual contact—the interview, with one of the college advisors. It is here, where the actual suggestions and guidance are performed. In Columbus, the College Office makes an effort to see that every college-bound student is placed in the school of his choice.

Most applications call for recommendations on the part of our administrators and teachers, and this work is coordinated by the College Office. A questionnaire regarding each applicant is circulated and culled by the Collge Office. This job is multiplied by at least five applications for every senior.

At the time this dedication is being written, twenty thousand seniors in the City of New York may be refused admission to the City University. This affects Columbus very deeply, for the majority of our students plan to attend some branch of the City University. The College Office stands in the forefront, as it has in past situations of this type, in initiating activity to find a place for every qualified student in the city college of his choice.

Most of all, we remember the personal relationship many of us had with Miss Olitsky, Mr. Sabato, and Mr. Hausner. We also remember the advice many of us received that did not always relate to college, but helped guide us in the other facets of our lives. It is difficult to put this dedication into so many words, but it is for the above and much, much more that we remember the Christopher Columbus College Office.

In less than a month, if all goes according to plan, a roaring rocket will tear itself loose from the launching pad at Cape Kennedy. In the capsule sitting on top of the rocket, our astronauts will venture forth to man's first landing on the moon. If successful, and all the world prays for it, this space journey will culminate with an American standing on the moon's surface. As he looks up and out toward the earth, he might well ask, "Where does one go from here?" Scientists who planned this amazing venture will undoubtedly answer, "We'll be looking for new worlds to conquer," for that is the trade-last of mankind's constant search for progress.

Today, as graduating seniors, you too have successfully reached the end of a journey. Looking back at your years at Columbus, there is much to make you proud. However, as you hold your diploma clutched in your hand, you too, like the astronaut on the moon might well ask, "Where do I go from here?" For the astronaut and the scientist the answer was relatively easy, "on to conquer new worlds." For you, the answer should be just as easy, for no person can stand still or remain where he is in a world changing as rapidly as ours. To be satisfied with your past accomplishments and thereby to stand still is really to move backward, because others moving forward will soon pass you by. Moving forward, however, is neither easy nor rapid. It means tackling the demanding, overcoming the frustrating, traveling the untraveled. As Robert Frost once expressed it so eloquently in one of his poems:

"Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference."

The only answer for you, for the question "Where do I go from here?", can be found in these eternal lines of poetry.

Edward R. Kolenzon

Principal

The most significant problem facing young people today has been neatly summarized by your editors in the theme of "Where Do We Go From Here?" and perhaps the most significant aspect of that problem is what we mean by "Here." It is always important to recognize and understand where we have been, before we can give meaning and direction to where we are going. Too frequently we confuse motion with progress.

After all, a generation that has conquered infantile paralysis, the scourge of young people for countless centuries; a generation that has produced atomic energy with its potential so much for good as well as for evil; and a generation that has sired and raised your inquiring and rebellious generation can't be all bad.

All I ask is that you study the past with an open mind and a positive approach, earnestly seeking the good that can and should be retained, so that hopefully you will learn something from our successes as well as from our failures. My only concern for your generation is if, in the words of the poet Shelley, "the future dares forget the past."

What is the purpose of a yearbook such as this? If it is to have meaning, it must be important not only now, but equally so in the future.

"Where do we go from here?" Examine your life. Keep what is true for your needs and the needs of others. Reject, throw away, those things which are not true for you. Replace them with newly found truths.

If you live by what you think to be true, your conscience can never bother you. If you live by what you know to be your finer instincts about people, about our racial problems, about our faltering society, about those who are close to us and even not so close, then you will live a worthwhile life.

When you look at this book years from now, use it as the measure of the time gone by. Will you be able to say that you have been true to yourself? If you cannot—it will still not be too late.

Our future is in the best of hands-yours. The halcyon days are yet to come.

DEPARTMENTS

English

This year the English Department under the direction of Mr. Philip Eisman, presented courses which were stimulating for Columbus' students.

One of the new courses, Great Poets, provided the student with an exploration of the works of some of our greatest poets. A course in Supervised Studies, taught by Mrs. Lilyan Rosenberg, was offered to those interested in doing research in the field of language or literature. Students received major credit for this course.

A Composition Experiment class with an emphasis on writing was also available. The English Department sponsored a journalism class to help and guide future news writers. Writing of basic news and feature stories was emphasized.

College level English was offered to Seniors and Juniors; a two year course entitled Advanced Placement English continued. The senior APH class was taught by Mr. John McCann and the junior APH class by Mr. Robert Hausner.

Other courses taught again this year were Great Books, Advanced Composition and Creative Writing. The team teaching program was also used.

All in all, 1968-69 proved to be a very eventful year for the English Department with new ideas offered to suit each individual's need. We look forward to still greater development and specialization in English courses in the years to come.

Author Thomas Mann wrote: "Speech is civilization itself." Here, in Columbus, in order for each student to learn the proper use of language and —the intricate mechanics behind it, a complete Speech course is provided. In the sophomore year, each student had one term of English Speech. This course provided a fundamental knowledge of public speaking. If, during this course, a student is found to have a speech impediment, he is programmed for Oral English where he receives individualized help in overcoming this problem.

The Speech Department, which was under the supervision of Mrs. Sylvia Dlugatch, during the fall term, and Mr. Martin Healy during the spring term also offered a Dramatics Class for students who had achieved good speech and showed acting ability.

We can look back today and really appreciate the invaluable skills and guidance that the Speech Department has given each student.

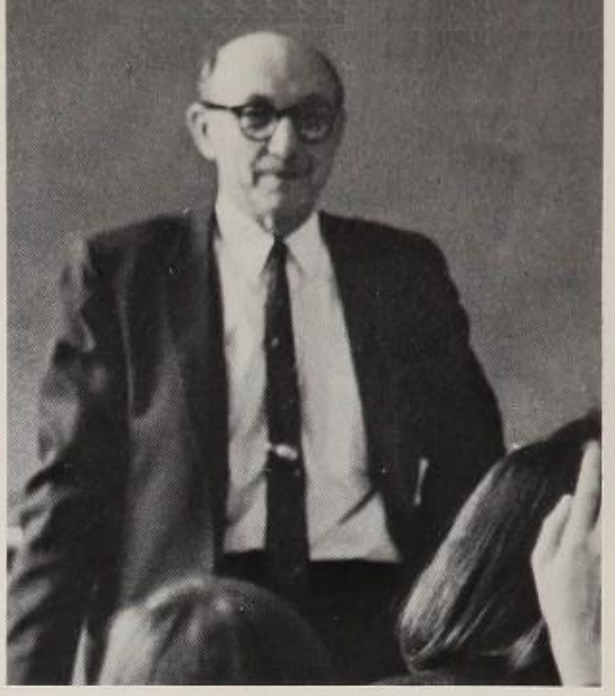
Social Studies



In the seven required courses, the Social Studies Department is moving rapidly to introduce the new content and methods recommended by the Board of Education. In addition, they constantly seek to meet pupils' needs and experiment with new approaches and last term the department experimented with independent study. This Spring they concluded a three-term experiment with team teaching. In the Fall they will offer three elective courses: Advanced Placement American History, the Problems of American Democracy, and the History of Minorities.

Another important activity of the Social Studies Department is the History Honor Sociey. Meeting once each week and open to all interested Columbusites, the Society provides our students with a forum for discussion of today's controversial issues. Past agendas included such volatile topics as our Vietnam involvement, student protest, educational, social and political reform, and an emotion-charged debate on the role of women in a (supposedly) masculine society.

Under the leadership of its faculty advisor, Mr. Donald Kantrowitz, the History Society has sent members representing Columbus High School to New York Youth Forums, city-wide discussion conferences, and radio and television shows. But perhaps the highlight of the year was the annual social evening which included a group theater party or a movie, such as War and Peace, and A Man For All Seasons.

Mathematics

Led by Chairman Paul Abramson, The Columbus Mathematics Department offered forty courses, taught by twenty-one teachers.

Begun this year was Computer Math 2. In the words of Mr. Abramson, "This year the Monrobot had a memory transplant." The change doubles the capacity of the memory bank and increases the size of Monrobot XI which allows classes to take the CM 2 course, dealing with Boolean Algebra, Statistical Analysis, Linear Programming and Matrix Operations.

In preparation for Advanced Algebra and Calculus, necessary for college-bound students, twelfth year mathematics is given. The course is a comprise of one term of Advanced Algebra, followed by one of Calculus which stresses the use of numbers instead of the usual proofs which are prevalent in college calculus. Hence, the student who takes "college math" in high school has a better understanding of numerical uses when he reaches college.

Thanks to our Foreign Language Department, Columbusites can pursue travels around the world and feel at home wherever they go, never having the problem of a language barrier.

Full programs are offered in español, francais, italiano, everit, and latin.

Many seniors have taken Spanish for five years and can speak and understand the language just as well as a native of Spain.

Parlez-vous francais? Why of course, especially if you learned French at Columbus. Anybody could walk into a French classroom and feel as if he were in the heart of Paris.

One can almost sense the presence of Columbus as he opens the door to an Italian classroom where Columbusites are busily learning the language.

Hebrew and Latin have become more and more popular and because of that, full programs are offered in both languages.

Physical Sciences

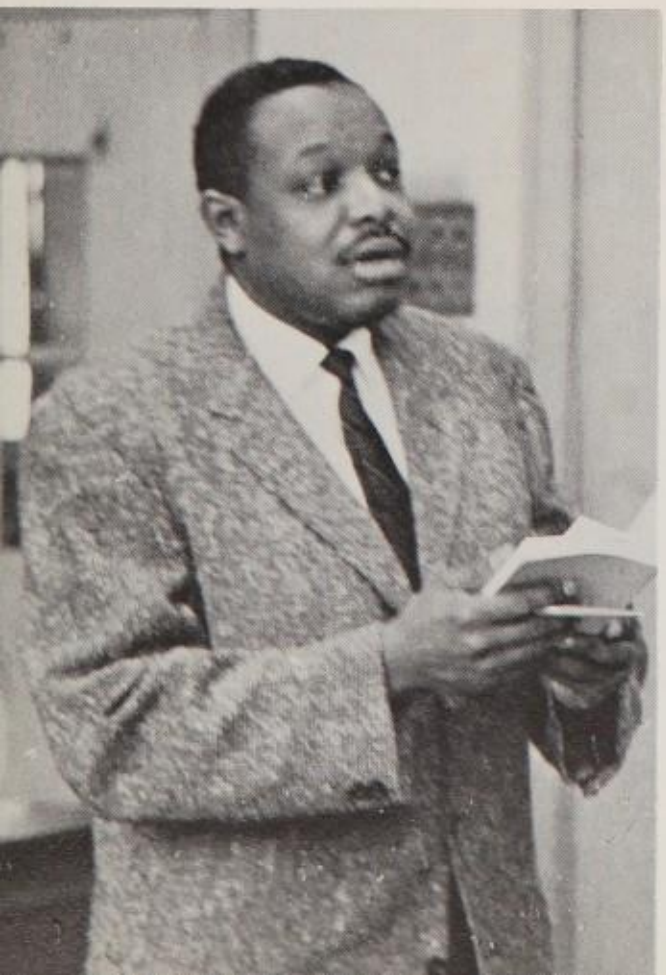
When a Columbus student mounts the bus to come to school each morning he has no intention of failing. Why is it, then, that everytime the bus stops suddenly, the unsuspecting pupil will tumble to the floor with his books sprawled out around him? And did you know that H_2O is a common drink?

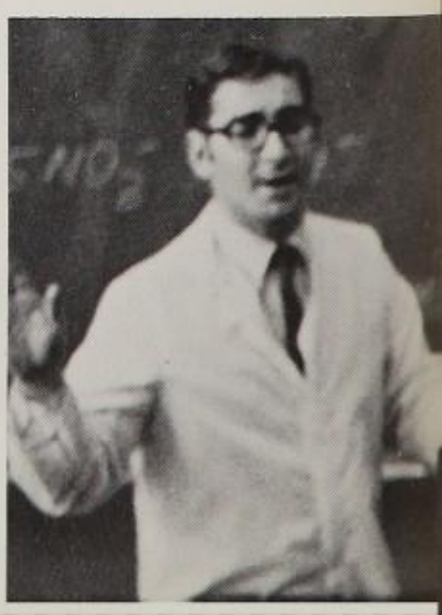
Everyday interested students learn the answers to these questions and many others. For instance, in a physics class under the supervision of capable teachers, students learn that the reason the pupil fell is Newton's law.

The law of atomic structure is the reason that H_2O is equal to a drink called water. This interesting fact may be learned by taking a course in chemistry. Columbus also offers a course in "Advanced Chemistry" for students who wish to learn more in this field after they complete the required terms. Mr. Ennis, chairman of the Physical Science Department, says that "returning graduates cannot speak too highly of how it helped them in their work in college."

In a laboratory class held once a week students have the chance to test the ideas they learn during the week in class.

Columbus gives students a wonderful opportunity to learn more about the interesting world today through a course in Physical Science.





Biological Sciences

One of the most interesting fields of study, that the students of Columbus have the opportunity to pursue, is that of the Biological Department. They are able to discover a whole new world containing microscopic organisms, including the viruses that cause many well-known diseases. They learn about the parts and organic functions of the human body. This enables them to care for themselves in a better fashion in their future lives.

Those students interested in going into some branch in the field of biological sciences as a lifetime career, may take a course in invertebrate and vertebrate zoology following the completion of the study of biology. Students taking these courses may develop new interests in the various branches of the natural sciences, or the medical and para-medical fields.

The department chairman, Mr. David Waldman, works together with the teachers of the department to insure the students that they will receive the best education possible.

Secretarial Studies and Accounting

Columbus' aspiring secretaries are being trained here in school, on the switchboard, the dictaphone machine, the mimeograph, rexograph and a great many other devices. This course is led by Mrs. Aili Kenny. Instead of stenography and typing classes one week, the girls are allowed to help out doing business tasks in our school's offices. Stenography and typing sessions are alternated with work sessions. The girls who participate in this program are seniors taking a commercial course; and plan to be secretaries, typists, bookkeepers and receptionists. A program of this sort, with alternating weeks of class and work, prepares and trains the girls for positions in the business world.

Digits, dashes, decimals, assets, liabilities and profits all made their presence and importance known through the Accounting Department. Under the supervision of Mrs. Florence Mendelsohn, the department provided students with basic knowledge for a business career.

This past year a new course, Senior Bookkeeping, was offered to academic students. The course covered a year's work in one term. It served two purposes: a background for the subject and an exploratory course for those not sure which profession to follow.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts Department, headed by Mr. Leo Nathan, is made up of six shops including electrical, wood, ceramics, drafting, transportation and metal. Industrial Arts is an elective subject available to all.

Mr. Nathan likes to keep up with new developments in these fields. He is planning an In-Plant Printing course where prints are made from photos of the type instead of setting the type by hand. He hopes someday to print periodicals in this manner. In the transportation department there are facilities that rival any of those in a filling station. The students work with real auto engines and chasis. On the school roof, Mr. Nathan plans to have an aerial with a receiver for the electronics shops.

Home Economics

Future homemakers, Home Economics teachers, and nutritionists of tomorrow, were given the chance to develop and learn many skills which will be valuable to them in their future careers. Through courses given in Foods, Sewing, and Home Nursing, under the watchful eye of chairman, Mrs. Ellen Waring, skills needed to run the home smoothly and efficiently were taught.

Fine Arts

Columbus is very fortunate to have one of the city's best Art Departments. Students are able to develop their artistic talents in many areas due to the wide variety of courses offered. Due to the excellent staff of teachers, students are able to obtain advice on how to improve their ability and expand it to cover many new ideas.

The colorful stage setting used as background for the senior show is prepared by a group of students participating in a course entitled "Stage Design." Here they learn the difficult techniques needed to create various images in the minds of the audience.

Once again Columbus had its "Traveling Exhibit" program. Many pieces of artwork, lent to us by various museums and galleries, were displayed in cases near the Art Office.

Many talented art students have been able to pursue their art careers. Because of the funds made available by the many scholarships offered, the art world will gain many new talents. These awards may be obtained by taking advanced art courses.

The creative artwork that appears in the Anchor and the Horizon is done by the students in the Art Department. The chairman, Mr. Irving Koenig hopes that the art department will be able to offer a class dealing in art history in the very near future.

Thanks to this department many Columbusites have found enjoyment in learning the skills of art.

Mid: Right: Chairman

Bott: Right: "Doctor, I think we'll have to make an incision through the frontal lobe into the cerebral cortex."

Music

A wide variety of courses were offered this year by the Music Department under the direction of Mr. Jack Finestone.

Students were given the opportunity to take a look at an overview of music in relation to other arts, by taking the course entitled, "A Survey of Music History." This course was taught by Mr. Bernard Bass.

There are many seniors wandering the halls of C.C. who possess the ability to sing and understand the written note at a glance. Why do they possess this knowledge? They are the students that participated in the program called, "Elementary Theory in Sight Singing," which was taught by Mr. Barry Volkman. They learned what the written note symbolized and gained the skill of sight singing as well.

A course in music is an important part of a Columbusite's daily schedule. While participating in a strenuous day of studies, they are given the opportunity to relax to the familiar chords of Beethoven and forget they are in a classroom. After the composition for the day is played, a teacher will lead them in a discussion, and help them to understand its meaning. In this way, Columbusites are broadening their educational scope and having fun doing it.

The main purpose of the music department is to "fulfill the needs of all the students who wish to pursue seriously their music careers." It gives students the opportunity to discover music fields which they may wish to follow in their future lives.

Girl's Health Ed

Located on the fourth floor in the south corridor is an office marked Girls' Health Education. The office is run by Miss Catherine Winter and her staff. If there is one word to sum up the work of the department, it is innovation.

Columbus' girls are given the choice of participating in a number of activities involving all facets of physical education.

This year many new programs were begun to help the girls achieve greater physical dexterity and control through the use of much new apparatus. The equipment includes the horse, balance beam, ropes, and the parallel bars.

In addition to the many activities, clubs, teams and special classes run by the Health Education Department, two stand out. The first is the modern dance class; the second is the honor class for girls interested in achieving greater physical dexterity, or in becoming health education teachers. Those girls who are learning to be gym teachers must acquire a great number of skills, such as being very agile on the apparatus, conducting a class, and learning techniques of safety.

New ideas have come to the Department this year. Co-ed dancing is a program instituted this term through the assistance of Mr. George Mercer of the Boys' Health Education Department. The first period dancing class has been very successful. The notion of teaching a sex education course next year in place of the traditional hygiene curriculum is under careful consideration.

Much effort has gone into the preparation of the program.

All Columbus girls owe the Department a debt of gratitude for a job well done.

Boy's Health Ed

Under the supervision of Mr. Morris Davich and his staff, Columbus boys received a comprehensive program which assists both their physical and mental development.

Due to the shortened term, we excluded a major segment of the outdoor physical education program, and undertook an enriched indoor program. Boys participated in badminton, tennis, handball, paddle tennis, rope climbing, chinning, basketball, volleyball and weight-lifting.

Students participated in a new wrestling program. As they soon learned, mental alertness, as well as speed and agility, are prerequisites for wrestling. New programs were illustrated by the use of sports films. Some students were spotted for the Polar Bear Club. Under the direction of Mr. George Mercer, the boys braved the cold daily while participating in handball, volleyball, football and soccer activities, which are usually practiced in the spring.

The aim of physical education is to work on the "all around person," just as colleges seek the all around type. Exercise must not be considered punishment, or even a test of one's endurance. As each student takes his place on line each day, and goes through the daily routine, he is building character, as well as muscle. In teaching ourselves physical discipline as well.

In its constant search to better equip those students seeking a college education, a marching class was instituted. Under the direction of Mr. William Barber, the students soon learned the fine points necessary for a successful demonstration. We all owe the department a debt of gratitude for preparing us for higher education.

Guidance

Guidance—what does it mean to you? To many of us it means help, assistance, a person to talk to, a program change, and many other things. We have all passed through the offices labelled, Guidance, rooms 121, 125, 129 and 141. Most of us have talked with a guidance counselor, Guidance Coordinator Mr. Emmanuel Molho, or with one of the full time advisors, Mr. Burt Erlman or Mrs. Ruth Hubert. But, in the long run, it is the part-time counselors we deal with, such as: Mr. Joseph Bell, Mr. Barry Long, Mrs. Rhoda Goldberg and many others, who handle most of the problems and see most of the students. It is inconceivable with all the work that the counselors have given personalized service, but, somehow, they provide a close facsimile of this.

Each term, new problems come into the lives of the guidance counselors and the department. Beyond the fact that they function with the utmost efficiency, they try to make everyone as happy as possible and solve the problems as best they can. Some of the dilemmas encountered by the staff are: students dropping out, failing grades, twelve and eleven period days, special programs, and many others. These problems, of course do not even include the fact that the guidance staff must program thousands of students at Columbus. This task is carried out one to two weeks prior to our school's opening.

Each need of each student must be met by the counselor taking care of that student's official class. The cross-section is varied from general to academic courses in the same home room. They must work on early leave and full, eight-period programs. The cross-section is so large that the counselor must always be prepared with information and knowledge for both types of problems which students often encounter.

With all this, the Guidance Office must work in conjunction with the CCHS College Office because of the material which deals with college planning and college placement. They must advise each student on which course is best suited for him, which courses are best for the college bound, which advanced placement courses should be taken, and which course will supplement their education towards the college curricula.

The Guidance Office has yet another facet to its work; this concerns the problem student, the constant cutter, the one who is always absent, the one who takes drugs, the one who starts fights the one who "doesn't give a damn."

They must deal with this student so as not to "lose" him, i.e., so that he will not leave school and miss out on an education and the opportunities that it brings, and avoid becoming a burden to society, his family, and himself.

This continual concern for the dignity of the individual student, constitutes the job of the Guidance Department of Christopher Columbus High School.

Bott: Right: Mr. Emanuel Molho—Coordinator of Guidance

College Office

Perhaps the words of our theme "Quo Vadis" should be engraved upon the door of the college office. For indeed, this is the place hundreds of questioning seniors go to find out the answer to this important question.

Through the guidance of Miss Roslyn Olitsky, Mr. Robert Sabato, Mr. Robert Hausner, students are able to find out about the college or business school they are interested in attending, and that will suit his own ideal. Many dreams come true, and students who felt there was no place for them find out that there is a place for everybody who wishes to seek a higher education.

How are all these things accomplished? The staff is always willing to meet with students and their parents. Directories of technical and art schools and college bulletins are available. College entrance exams are processed through this office.

Columbus seniors will be forever grateful for all the guidance, interest, and understanding given by the staff of the college office.

Library

It stands numberless and perhaps best known as the route to the college office. Hidden behind microfilm, and book displays is the real library: a true world of knowledge.

Presently it has about 25,000 books and an extensive collection of periodicals including 125 different magazines dating back five years.

Some firsts for 1968-69 were the increased number of paperback books, and the arrival of new shelves.

Mr. Dunn, head librarian, together with Miss Englander, Mr. Gordon and Mr. Hoffman see that information in the library is current and covers a wide range of possible subjects.

G.O.

The Christopher Columbus General Organization took on a new and brighter light this year. Aside from its usual functions of planning and carrying out activities, the G.O. introduced several new purposes for its members.

Student participation played an important role in the G.O. of '68-'69. Because this school year was unusual, a coordinating council was established to discuss and solve any problems that arose at Columbus. Students also displayed their ability to negotiate rather than demonstrate in matters like time schedules and dress regulations. As convenient a schedule as possible was worked out and dress code was left to the student's discretion. The entire student body should be commended for its superb handling of this new situation.

A new student newspaper was formed, whereby any student could submit articles; it was created in the hope of improving communication between students and teachers in Columbus. Communication is a vital necessity in any meaningful, well-run institution. Our General Organization hopes that communication will continue as the unifying force among all our students.

General Activities

There are many things of interest in Columbus that go under the heading of general activities. One of these is the G.O. Bookstore run by Mrs. Sylvia Singer. Here students may purchase books ranging from review texts to the well-known classics to editions that are relevant to the times. A percentage of the profits go to the General Organization.

Providing interesting supplements to classroom studies is the Audio-Visual Department headed by Mr. Gerald Diamond. The tapes, films, slides, and film strips furnished by the department provide a new technique in teaching.

Students have a chance to voice their opinions and gripes about the policies of Columbus via the Forum, a newspaper being started by Mr. Peter Lerner. This move reveals the new and more democratic attitude of the school.

Perhaps the most interesting and enjoyable of the general activities is Blue Letter Day controlled by Mr. Rubin Cohen. On this day, from periods one through six, the job of teaching is handed over to the seniors. At the end of the sixth, a dance was held in the boys' gym. Entertainment was supplied by a show and dance contest where prizes were given to the winners.

Regent Scholarship Winners for 1969.

Arista

The Columbus branch of the National Honor Society, Arista, is more than an organization in name only; it seeks to function as a group involved. This involvement can lead to creating an image, in which contact is maintained with all student levels in Columbus. Arista is active in tutoring, and working with foreign pupils. Arista also plans to initiate a college information program to help academic students. Under the leadership of Mr. Peter Micera and Miss Ellen Urowsky, Arista will continue as one of Columbus' most important activities.

Senior Council

The council's main function is the organization of activities and the establishment of senior dues. Al Musumeci is the chairman of the committee. One of the activities decided upon by the council was the May trip to Washington, D. C. All who attended enjoyed the festive weekend. Another important activity was Blue Letter Day which took place on April 18th.

Boy and Girl Leaders

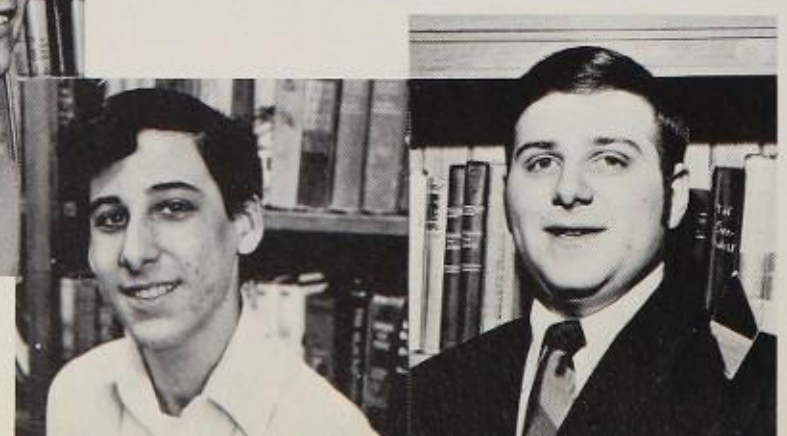
Our 1969 Senior Year could not have been a successful one without the inspiration provided by our class leaders, Pat Cicio and Al Musumecio.

Pat and Al were responsible for planning the class activities. Each senior owes a debt of gratitude to them for the fine work that they did.

Prom Committee

Our Prom Committee under the helpful direction of Mr. Rubin Cohen, made the 1969 Prom a great success. The Committee was formed by one student from each eighth term class. The 1969 Girl Leader, Pat Cicio, was chairman of the Committee. Once again it was decided to have the Prom at Tardi's. On Prom night music to satisfy all tastes was played by Spike Jones and his Rubber Band. All agreed they played snappy tunes. But joking aside, the Prom was a booming success: a good time was had by all.

Anchor



Our staff sought excellence through creative change in this year's Anchor. Guided by gifted editors Sloan Gordon, Sharon Kaye, Stanley Stein, Ronnie Zweig, and Robin Nadler, new ideas blossomed, advertising reappeared, and color photography sparkled again. Indefatigable Howard Nadel and Leslie Goldstein broke every school record for the amount of advertising sold. Dedicated Philip Laskin and Suzanne Dukatenseiler labored tirelessly over the Senior Section. Photographers Marc Weinstein and Robert Schindler snapped some of the best pictures in yearbook history. Howard Nadel and Daniel De Vasto worked unstintingly on stories, humor and biographies. Andrea Tobias served again with her quiet, unselfish devotion.

Admiral

For the past thirteen years, the Admiral has been functioning under the able guidance of Mrs. Frances Edelstein. This year's staff consisted of Editor-in-Chief George Gerstein and Assistant Editors: Sloan Gordon, Kenneth Lisi, Blanche Nudel and Janet Zarookian.

The Admiral had the unique distinction of winning the Medalist last year, which is the highest award given a publication from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

Horizon

Horizon, Columbus' literary and art magazine, under the supervision of Mr. James Huvane, introduced two new approaches this year: an effort to de-emphasize portions of the literary side of the magazine, and to replace them in part with topics of student interest, like the draft.

The 1969 Horizon has broken with the past, making it a unique cornerstone for the future.

Afro-American Society

One of the ways that Columbus students are uniting is through the Afro-American Society. This organization was started with the hope that through understanding one another, White and Negro students would be able to join together.

By creating and presenting interesting programs on Black culture, Columbusites have been given the opportunity to learn more about their fellow classmates.

This year's session was led by Mr. Tyrone Kemp; Patricia Jones was president; Emzy Veazy was vice-president, and Vanessa Johnson was secretary.

Photography Club

Are you a member of the great majority of picture-takers who click the shutter and then leave the rest of the work for someone else? Since January the newly formed photography club has worked throughout the school capturing the sights and scenes of Columbus '69. Under the direction of Mr. Jerome Levy, the Photography Club has become a great success.

The club has two basic objectives. First, to teach photographic theory and techniques, and second, to demonstrate the physical application of these techniques in the darkroom. Get the Picture???

Radio Club

Come Friday, the stillness of the Electrical Shop ceases as the voice of Mr. Arnold Lefkowitz permeates the air with discussion on the theory of radio. The lecture concludes and dots and dashes fill the room. The Ham Radio Club, in its second year, is certainly one of Columbus's most exciting ventures. Students learn to use radio apparatus while studying for their Novice licenses.

Mr. Lefkowitz hopes that one day an active radio station will begin in Columbus. Who knows, in the near future we may all be listening to WCCHS.

Cheerleaders

Just in case you did not notice the girls wearing those short skirts and Columbus blouses, they are the members of the Cheerleaders. Besides adding to the joys of school life, they provided an excellent opportunity to publicize the Explorers basketball games. They must be congratulated in part.

Under the watchful eye of Miss Gail Sansolo, the girls went through long hours of rigorous practice while working on their routines.

As Captain Ellen Steinman says, "It's just a great way to get involved in school activity."

Twirlers

It is hard to imagine an Explorer basketball game without Mrs. Barbara Zinberg's Twirlers. This year the girls' intricate routines were further enhanced by the addition of music.

As always the Twirlers led the Columbus Day Parade. The girls were much in evidence as they led an enormous throng down Fifth Avenue.

Mastry of the baton is not an easy task. Mrs. Zinberg, Captain Ann Geller, and the rest of the squad are to be congratulated for the fine show which they produced.

Physical Fitness Club

Started as a pilot project, Coach Marty Taylor's Physical Fitness Club has grown into a huge success.

The program is intended to improve the physical ability of the students by increasing their capabilities in the five basic exercises: squat thrust, pull up, sit up, push up, and the three hundred yard run.

Ushers

At least once during your stay at Columbus, you must have wondered where those people in the auditorium, with the blue and silver bands, are from.

The answer is that they are the members of Columbus' Usher Squad. Their home base is in room 449 and they have as their manager, Mrs. Estelle Mendelsohn. Through her great courage, Mrs. Mendelsohn manages to keep them functioning at their best.

This year the schedule for the Ushers included such functions as the Senior Show, Music Festival, 30th Anniversary Show, Open School Week, Arista Induction, and weekly assemblies.

The Usher Squad is one of the essential groups at CCHS. Hard-working they are always there when they are needed.

Cadet

Many of the students who take the Cadet Teaching course offered here at Columbus have already answered the question, "Where do we go from here." These students have chosen teaching as a career goal. Anyone planning to enter education or a related field can benefit greatly from the course.

Students interested in any of these fields should plan to take the courses, CADET TEACHING and PROJECT EDUCATION, both of which are taught by Mrs. Sylvia Singer. The Project Education course deals primarily with the methods of educating, while the Cadet Teaching

Valedictorians

For the first time in the thirty year history of our school, there will be two valedictory addresses at the June commencement exercises. Sharing the position of valedictorian are Donna Helfer and Lenore Luciano.

Both girls are active in all aspects of school affairs, holding the positions of G.O. Club Rep and G.O. President respectively.

Donna plans to use her Regents Scholarship to continue her study of mathematics at the State University at Albany. An aspiring linguist, Lenore plans to attend Queens College in the fall.

Our congratulations to you both!

Teaching

course explains "the how" of teaching. The Cadet Teachers are assigned to classes in neighborhood elementary schools to observe and learn from other teachers.

The entire course consists of three periods; one period of class in school and a double period for project education at the elementary school. The three periods amount to a college course in the principls and methods of education.

Senior Show

This year, the Senior Show was presented under the careful direction of Mr. Gary Wankoff and Mr. Donald Comras, who, when they are not theatrical producers, teach English here at Columbus. The Production, Li'l Abner, was presented from Friday, April 25 until Tuesday, May 6. The dramatis personae include: Li'l Abner performed by Joe Bachner and Daisy May portrayed by the superb-voiced Linda Spiegel. The supporting cast, a group of well-versed thespians, included Deborah Salem as Mammy Yocum. Marryin' Sam was brought to life by Martin Brown, who has appeared in previous Columbus' productions. Charles Smith did a very good job with the character of Earthquake.

The actual production was handled excellently by Messers. Wankoff and Comras and proved to be a great success. The evening, a very enjoyable one had still another meaning to Columbus' 1400 graduating seniors, as this was their final production.

Music Festival

On Friday, May 16, the Music Department put on their annual Music Festival. This is one of Columbus' traditional activities to show how the students can work together in "harmony."

The Senior Band, under the supervision of Mr. Edward Hannerfeld, played selections by Bach and Ericson. The Senior Orchestra played pieces by Wagner, Brahms and Mozart. Thanks to the direction of Mrs. Bernice Black, the orchestra performed beautifully.

As usual the school choruses were greeted by all who were lucky enough to hear their fine voices. The Senior Chorus sang a variety of numbers including, "We Kiss In the Shadow," by Rodgers and Hammerstein. The Melody Singers sang "Valse" which was done entirely in choral speaking. They were accompanied by a small percussion section. Mr. Volkman's Girls' Chorus also performed well. One of their selections was Cole Porter's, "In The Still of the Night." Without the able leadership of Mr. Bernard Bass, Mr. Jack Finestone and Mr. Barry Volkman, the choruses could not have given such a fine performance.

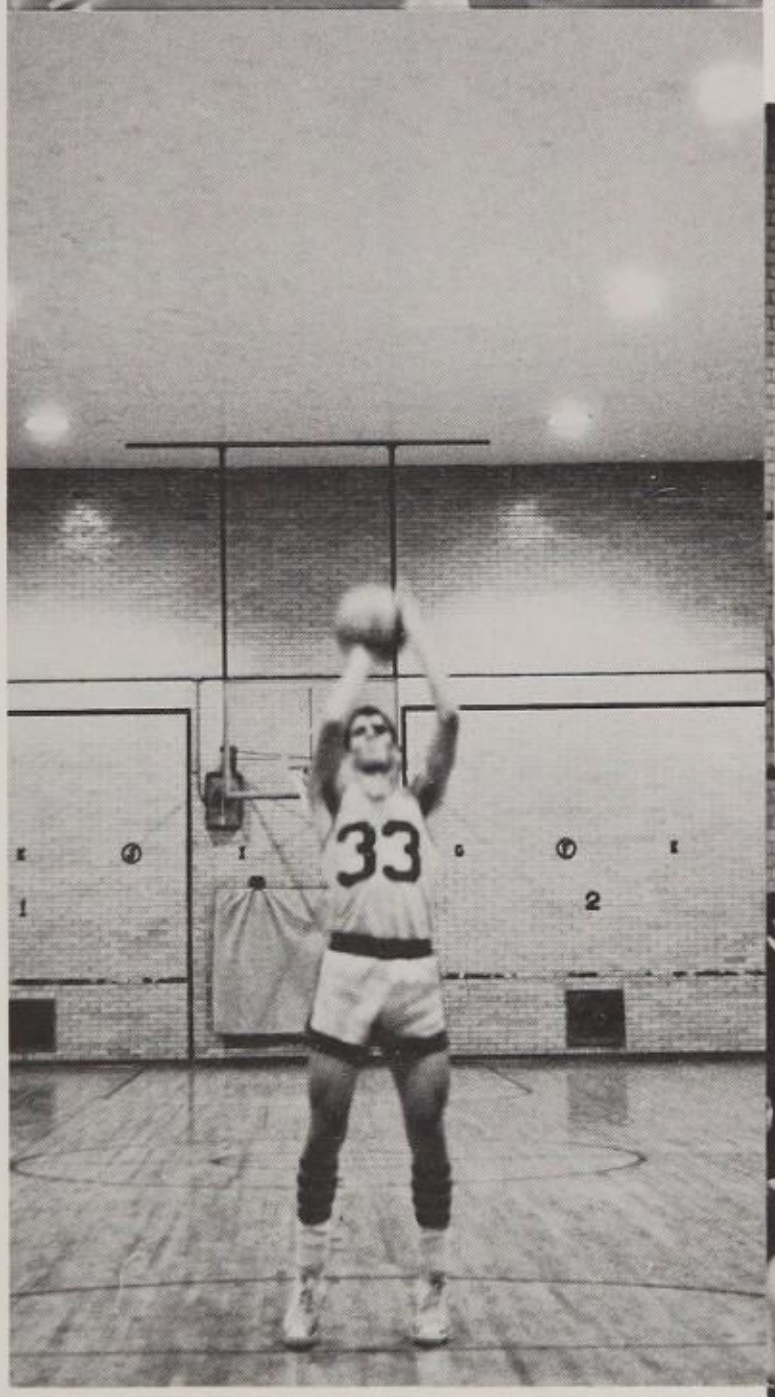
SPORTS

Basketball

This 1968-69 season was one in which Mr. Howard Adelson took over the coaching duties from Mr. Wilbur Klein. Mr. Adelson, a former Columbus basketball star who once played under Mr. Klein, was faced with a major rebuilding job in his first season here. Judging from the team's showing, it must be concluded that he achieved his goal.

The team scored many big victories while coasting to an 11-6 overall record. The season started very well as Columbus broke all existing scoring records when they defeated Art and Design High School, 115-52. The highlight of the season was the 60-58 overtime defeat of arch-rival Evander Childs High School.

Coach Adelson is a strong advocate of defense. Captain Harold Merritt (6'3", 185 lb.) led the team in rebounding with an average of 15 per game, highest in Columbus' history. Merritt's inspired play sparked the team to many victories. Leading scorer Charles Woody proved invaluable coming off the bench to average 18 points per game. In him coach Howard Adelson has the best sixth man in the Bronx. Back court stars Richard Pagean and Bruce O'Connor harassed the opposing teams with their aggressive defensive plays. Phillip Salusttio and Vincent Joyner also fit into the team's new look, with their rebounding and all-around team effort. Standing a mere five feet tall, sophomore Raymond Jones caught the fancy of all who came to watch him with his sensational ball handling. Managers Jeff Tunkel and Alan Kramer had little trouble bringing the team together. As Tunkel put it, "They really played as a unit." The team's new found success was evidenced by the large crowds that came to see them play. Howard Adelson has returned to Columbus and with him so have winning teams.



Swimming

This year's swimming team must be congratulated for continuing its high standards. The team finished with an 8-1 season, but in the process prolonged a Columbus winning streak to 15 straight, over regular season competition. This was also a year of rebuilding the team. Only four seniors swam a full season: Captain Bernard Slutsky, Co-Captain Dave Shaw, Steve Cooper, and Dave Horn. Coach Tom Hannus is known for his hard work-outs, wet feet, and winning teams. In P.S.A.L. swimming, only four strokes are raced: back-stroke, breast-stroke, butterfly, and free-style. These strokes were mastered by Douglas Pollack, David Shaw, Dave Horn and Bernard Slutsky respectively. Other fine performers were Steve Cooper, Warren Phillips, and Steve Widnick. During the season, the team practices four times a week, with one meet a week. The boys swim up to 10 miles during that period. The competition is fierce, emotional, and tense. Despite not having their own pool, Coach Hannus has created the winning spirit that makes the Aquamen tough competitors, and a feared opponent in the P.S.A.L. "B" division. Good luck to the graduating members, and to next year's heirs.

Soccer

The 1969 edition of the Soccer team was one in transition. Mr. Morris Davich took over the coaching duties and soon introduced a new style of play. He stressed team play rather than individual performance. The team lacked experience as only three veterans remained from last year's squad. Due to the shortened term, the team missed most of their fall practice sessions. The boys lacked size and experience. This, coupled with the fact that we were in the toughest division in the Bronx, led to a seemingly dismal season. However, the team rallied around seniors, Captain Henry Dykowski, Morris Litmanowitz, and Sal Bottone.

Track

Coach Martin Decatur's runners are perhaps the youngest team in Columbus athletics this year. Only five of the sixteen athletes will graduate: Richie Pagan, Robert Stranges, Emzy Veazy III, Mike Mazzurco, and Anthony Simmonds. Although the team is young it still fared well in competition. In the Mayor's Meet, Columbus' 880 relay finished 4th out of 85 relays entered. The team finished 4th in the Bronx Championship. Under the supervision of the new coach, the team seems sure to be a tough competitor. In the coach's own words, "We're a young team improving and maturing with every workout and meet." The team's best is Junior, Mike Greenberg, who ran a 4:42.2 mile.

Baseball

In sports, as in scholastics, some schools are respected and considered tops. In baseball, Columbus is as respected as the Yankees were in the 1950's. This success is not accidental, and can be greatly attributed to the fine coaching of Mr. Phil Angelastro. The team has repeated as Bronx Champions since 1966. Last year's record was an outstanding 24-2. The team lost in the Semi-Finals to New Dorp High School in a rough ball game. Mr. "A" is an asset to our school, and boys come from all over the city to Columbus to play baseball for him. It's no wonder why Mr. Angelastro has sent many players to colleges, and to major league teams. One notable is last year's star, Vic Ambrose. He went on to excel for the United States Olympic team, as a second baseman. This year, Senior Phil Sallustio appears to be taking the torch from Vic. Phil was selected Athlete of the Year by the Columbus sportwriters. Phil will pitch and catch, while Dwight Levy will pitch and play first base. Other graduating members are: Steve Tenenbaum, Frank Germano, Larry Cohen, Mike Fusco, Steve Reiner, Nich Nikon and Sal Vitiello. Mr. Angelastro said, "This year's team is young, balanced, and should be a winner."

Golf

If past performance is to be our guide to the future, then the 1969 golf team figures to be among the finest in the city.

Last year's season was highlighted by wins over Clinton and archrival Forest Hills. Only a heartbreaking defeat suffered at the hands of Science High School kept us from the Bronx Championship. Science went on to win the City Championship.

With most of last year's squad returning, new coach, Mr. Peter Lerner, should have a very successful freshman campaign.

The team's number one player, Peter Rymer, has the potential to be a golfer of championship caliber. Rymer, playing just four years, has shown an exceptional ability to drive the ball. It was because of this ability that he won the Flagla Pro-Am Tournament.

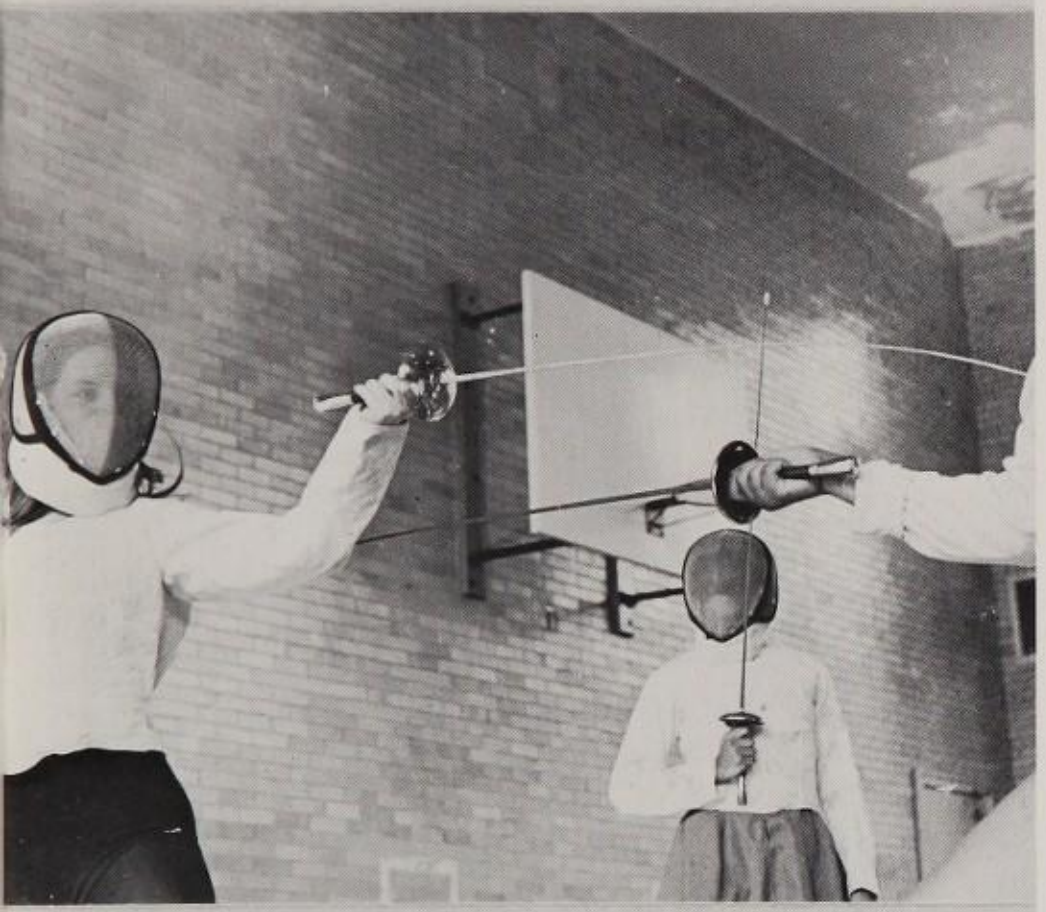
Having mastered the art of putting at a relatively young age, Joe Rosen has proven to be a fine competitor. After joining the team as a Sophomore, Rosen went on to win all but one match during his three years of competition.

Mitch Singer has improved with age and should benefit the team greatly. He is a very fine short game player. Rounding out the squad are Andrew Fox and Alan Kramer. They should provide the elements necessary to bring Columbus the City Championship.

Handball

Coach William Barber was faced with a major rebuilding job in 1969. Only Bernard Slotsky and Ira Seigal remained from last year's squad.

This year Coach Barber combined Slutsky's leadership with the desire of Robert Feller, Hy Lederman and Vincent Joyner to produce another successful season.



Tennis

Tennis is an individually competitive sport. It entails much effort and time to produce a quality player. We believe that we have such players here.

1969 should be a decisive year with Captain Sheldon Warman returning as a much improved competitor. Mathew Longiaru's speed is the perfect complement. Opposing teams will have difficulty handling the booming services of Marc Tow. Henry Unger's all around skills should benefit the team greatly.

Coach Morris Davich feels that his team will meet great success with the addition of Mike Littman and Gary Held to the roster.

Bowling

Powered behind the leadership of Captain Harold Kaston, and scoring of Bob Weiss, Coach Marty Taylor's kegler's captured their second consecutive Bronx Championship. Coach Taylor said that, "they could be very good with proper concentration and hard work." The team compiled a fantastic 10-0 league record.

The season was highlighted by wins over Evander and New Dorp High Schools. Clutch wins by Mike Littman and Paul Soodek were crucial to the team's success. Soodek's 267 was high game for the year. Rounding out the squad are Steve Reiner, Art Edelson, Paul Kramer, Rudy Davis and Alan Oberman.

Gymnastics

Of the seemingly endless fields of competition that the American sport's watcher views on his television screen each week-end perhaps the most beautiful is gymnastics. In no other sport is so much emphasis put on individual performance. Clearly the gymnast must be in complete control of every part of his body, for he must compete in a large number of specialized events the likes of which no other athlete must contend with.

In accordance with this, Miss Carol Schwartz, under the direction of the Health Education Department, has established a gymnastics club in Columbus. Its purpose is the introduction of the sport to a large portion of the student body.

Fencing

Once a form of mortal combat, fencing as practiced in Columbus is tame by comparison. The girls are taught the basic fundamentals of the sport. Safety is always stressed. Everything from masks to rubber-tipped foils has been provided for by the department so as to insure the safety of the girls. Miss Rita DiLello stresses "fair play and good sportsmanship at all times."

Perhaps the reason for the great interest in fencing can be found in the sport itself. Certainly it is a most interesting and challenging form of one of man's basic desires, competition.

Requiem For a Gym Teacher

This is the epitaph of the late, beloved, Archibald Shore, affectionately called 'Arty' by his former hoods. This renowned gym teacher was "accidentally" disposed of during one of his typical home room riots. The class, most of whom have been renominated for graduation, devastated Mr. Shore's official room. The room has been boarded up in honor of the Man.

As for the infamous home room class, they have been returned from Devil's Island with their parole officers to plead their cases. In reference to Arty's demise, which took place during a reinactment of a historical event—"Ya know, the Boston Tea Party?" indeed, they did throw all the desks and chairs out the window, promptly followed by Mr. Shore's checkered hat, which he happened to be wearing.

Defending the class was Lefty Louey, who came forward as a character witness. "After all, they hold the state's record for stripping a car." Indeed, before his unscheduled flight, Mr. Shore himself stated, "Boys will be boys."

Earlier in the term, had one braved entering the room, they would be gleefully greeted by a frisking, then blissfully mugged.

The Board of Education, who truly appreciates the genius of the man, has offered to pay for perpetual care of the windows and doors. The Board of Education, in his memory, will pay for all his panes.

Daniel De Vasto and Howard Nadel

Leaders

Leaders Club is separated into three divisions: Junior Leaders, Senior Leaders, and Major "C" Club. Senior Leaders is under the guidance of Mrs. Barbara Zinberg, and the elected officials. President of Senior Leaders is Carol Britton, aided by the Vice-President, Doris Files, Secretary Cindy Figueroa, and Treasurer, Karen Rose.

The purpose of the Leaders Club, in general, is to promote the understanding of physical education. The net result of which usually affords an enjoyable experience. This is accomplished by assistance to the teacher and students, as well as additional guidance to those girls who need it. A Senior Leaders job, however, does not end here. She must constantly be on the alert, ready and able to act in an emergency. She must also aid the new Junior Leader. She must help her in the advanced skills, and must also have an air of confidence about her.

Rounding out the Leaders Club are the Major C's. Before a girl can receive her major letter, she must first complete two years of preparation as a leader. In addition to this, she must display exceptional qualities of leadership, and athletic prowess. This year's Major C's are: Carolyn Britton, Juanita Crawford, Doris Files, Carla Gelbtuck, Ellen Gordon, Deborah Hershkowitz, Karen Rose and Elise Taschler.

Hearty congratulations to all!!!!

THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

OFFICE OF ADMISSION SERVICES

OFFICE OF THE DEAN

March 1, 1969

Dear Student:

In September 1969 the City University had planned to enroll 20,000 freshman students in our colleges and programs, the largest entering class in our history. In order to reach this goal, the University had requested a total budget of $270 million from the State and City of New York.

Both the State and the City have cut the University's budget by large amounts; there are indications that still further reductions may be made in the next several months. It may even be that the University budget will be cut to $180 million, which would mean that no freshmen could be admitted at all. Only a small proportion of the students whom we had planned to admit can be enrolled at the University in September if the budget is more than $180 million but falls below our request.

Until the City and State decide on our budget, the University cannot take action on admissions applications. It seems fairly certain at this time that the admissions notices, which were to have been mailed by April 15, will be delayed beyond that date.

The University is presently working closely with civic associations, social agencies, parents' groups and political leaders in an effort to have our complete budget request restored. The students, faculty and administration of the University are contacting leaders in the State Legislature and the City Council, and the Governor and Mayor, and asking them to support the University's position so that the high school students of New York City can receive the higher educational opportunities they should and must have.

We hope that these efforts will be successful, and that we will begin in September 1969 with a full freshman class. We will keep the public informed of any progress in the fight for a restoration of our budget, and we will notify you of a decision on your application as soon as possible.

Sincerely yours,

Lester G. Brailey

Sit by my side,
Come as close as the air,
Share in the memory of gray,
And wonder in my words,
And dream about the pictures that I play of changes.

Green leaves of summer turn red in the fall,
Too brown and too yellow, they fade,
And then they have to die,
Trapped within the circle time parade of changes.

Scenes of my young years were warm in my mind,
Visions of shadows that shines,
Till one day I'll return
And find they were the victim of the vines of changes.

The world spinning madly,
It drifts in the dark,
Swings through a hollow of haze,
A race around the sun,
A journey through the universe ablaze with changes.

Moments of magic will glow in the night,
All fears of the forest are gone,
But when the morning breaks,
They're swept away by golden drops of dawn
of changes.

Passions will part to a strange melody,
All fires will sometimes burn cold,
Like petals in the wind,
We're puppets to the silver streams of souls
of changes.

Your tears will be trembling,
Not here somewhere else,
One last cup of wine we will pour,
And I'll kiss you one more time,
And leave you on the rolling river shores of changes.

So come and sit by my side,
Come as close as the air,
Share in a memory of gray,
And wonder in my words,
And dream about the pictures that I play of changes.

The Editorial Board of Anchor closes with a dedication to all our future endeavors. All too often man has lived in a cave, seeing things through the distorted light of a flickering fire. In order to clear his vision, and examine himself more closely, man has from time to time fed the fire, but to no avail, for each time this was done, the shadows only increased in size and delusion.

The students of Columbus hope to go forth out of the shadows and into the sunlight, facing the challenges of our time as modern man must if he ever wishes to survive. We must and we will meet our ultimate destiny.

—THE EDITORS

MURRAY KATZ

He was a dedicated teacher and musician who helped develop the skills of our students at Christopher Columbus High School.

He was a composer and arranger. His arrangements and compositions were played by our Senior Orchestra and string classes.

He was an Assistant onductor of the All City High School Orchestra and coach of the violin section.

He had a keen mind. His interests were many. He loved Science and Philosophy and it was not unusual to find him coaching students in Mathematics.

The students and faculty of Christopher Columbus High School valued his contributions.

We will miss him.
